

Planning for 2025 in the VCE Vocational Major and the Victorian Pathways Certificate

20 August, 2024

Acknowledgement of Country

The VCAA respectfully acknowledges the Traditional Owners of Country throughout Victoria and pays respect to the ongoing living cultures of First Peoples.

Purpose of this session

To support teachers to begin planning for 2025.

- VCAA policies and frameworks teachers need to consider as they plan
- Planning and implementation structures and advice.

Curriculum

VCE VM Literacy Unit 2 Outcome 1

On completion of this unit the student should be able to explain the purpose, audience and main ideas of diverse arguments presented in different text types by creating a range annotations, written, oral and multimedia responses reflecting that reflect learning.

Students at this level will apply knowledge and skills to demonstrate autonomy and limited judgement in structured and stable contexts and within narrow parameters.

WHEN will the standard be achieved

WHAT skills and knowledge the student should demonstrate to meet the standard

HOW the student should demonstrate their achievement of the standard

The LEVEL to which the student must demonstrate the standard

Curriculum

VCE VM WRS Unit 3 Outcome 2

On completion of this unit the student should be able to outline the National Employment Standards and methods for determining pay and conditions, explain the characteristics of workplace bullying, discrimination and sexual harassment, and outline the processes and legal consequences for breaches and analyse the personal ramifications that may follow.

Students at this level will apply knowledge and skills to demonstrate autonomy and judgement and to take limited responsibility in known and stable contexts within established parameters.

Flexible Delivery

VCE VM studies can be delivered flexibly to meet the needs of students who may learn at different paces or transition into the VCE VM during the academic year.

Category	Option	Application required
Mid-year commencement	Deliver Unit 1 in Semester 2 and Unit 2 in Semester 1 in the following year	No
	Deliver Unit 3 in Semester 2 and Unit 4 in Semester 1 the following year in the standard time frame	Yes
Extended delivery	Deliver a single VCE VM unit across more than a semester	Yes
	Commence delivery of a VCE VM unit during a semester and continue in the next semester, including over multiple calendar years	Yes
Concurrent delivery	Deliver Units 1 and 2 or Units 3 or 4 concurrently across 2 semesters	No
Out of order delivery	Deliver Units out of order across a year	No

Continua of practice – VCE VM and VPC

Each school and each class will be at different stages on the continuum of practice. Many schools have been able to adapt outstanding applied learning practice developed over years, while others are at the very beginning of the journey.

Be aspirational and be realistic!

Continua of practice – VCE VM and VPC

- Continua of practice have been developed (one each for VCE VM and VPC) to provide support and guidance for school leadership and teachers.
- Designed to prompt thinking and aide planning for the next steps of implementation of these important reforms.
- Not a mandatory checklist and has no compliance application.
- Intended as a guide for teachers and school leaders to:
  - Reflect on implementation so far
  - Consider areas for improvement to prioritise

Continuum of practice

	Emerging (1)	Evolving (2)	Embedding (3)	Excelling (4)
Student participation and experiences	Teachers are considering ways of seeking student input and participation in the various aspects that make up the VCE VM subjects they teach, though these still need to be put into practice. Teachers rarely rely on student experiences to inform teaching and learning. Teachers sometimes seek student feedback but when they do, are not yet ready to take it into consideration as a means of making improvements	Teachers occasionally seek student input and participation across some aspects of the VCE VM subjects they teach. Student experiences as a means of applying learning are at times part of teaching and learning, whether in the classroom, off campus, online or through inviting community members into the classroom. Teachers build their applied learning practices by trying ways of providing students with experiences, occasionally seeking student feedback to improve.	Teachers foster student input and participation across several aspects of the VCE VM subjects they teach, including in the scheduling of VCE VM assessments. Student experiences as a means of applying a learning experience or project-based learning are part of teaching and learning, whether in the classroom, off campus, online or through inviting community members into the classroom. Teachers build their applied learning practices by trying ways of providing students with experiences and seeking student feedback to improve.	Teachers foster student input and participation across all aspects of the VCE VM subjects they teach, including in the scheduling of VCE VM assessments. Student experiences as a means of applying learning are at the forefront of teaching and learning, whether in the classroom, off campus, online or through inviting community members into the classroom. Teachers conscientiously build their applied learning practices by trying new ways of providing students with experiences and external partnerships that are built over time, with student input and feedback as integral to the process.
Reflection for improving student outcomes	Teachers are working on ways to bring reflective process to their practice but rarely have the opportunity to undertake such reflection as a means of improving practice.	Teachers occasionally plan for and undertake reflection. Some of this reflection informs planning for improvement in VCE VM student outcomes.	Teachers regularly plan for and undertake reflection, individually and as a teaching team, to inform their planning for improvement related to VCE VM student outcomes.	Teachers frequently and conscientiously undertake reflection, individually and as a teaching team, to inform their planning for improvement related to VCE VM student outcomes.
