IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Accreditation period
Units 1 and 2: 2005–2023
Units 3 and 4: 2006–2024

The accreditation period for Units 1 and 2 commences on 1 January 2005.
The accreditation period for Units 3 and 4 commences on 1 January 2006.

Other sources of information
The VCAA Bulletin is the only official source of changes to regulations and accredited studies. The VCAA Bulletin, including supplements, also regularly includes advice on VCE studies. It is the responsibility of each VCE teacher to refer to each issue of the VCAA Bulletin. The VCAA Bulletin is sent in hard copy to all VCE providers. It is available on the Victorian Curriculum and Assessment Authority’s website at www.vcaa.vic.edu.au

To assist teachers in assessing school-assessed coursework in Units 3 and 4, the Victorian Curriculum and Assessment Authority publishes an assessment handbook that includes advice on the assessment tasks and performance descriptors for assessment.
The current year’s VCE and VCAL Administrative Handbook contains essential information on assessment and other procedures.

VCE providers
Throughout this study design the term ‘school’ is intended to include both schools and other VCE providers.

Photocopying
VCE schools only may photocopy parts of this study design for use by teachers.
Introduction

THE LANGUAGE
The language to be studied and assessed is the modern standard version of Yiddish (mandated by the internationally recognised YIVO – Institute for Jewish Research). Regional variations are acceptable in spoken language only.

RATIONALE
The study of a language other than English contributes to the overall education of students, most particularly in the area of communication, but also in the areas of cross-cultural understanding, cognitive development, literacy and general knowledge. It provides access to the culture of communities which use the language and promotes understanding of different attitudes and values within the wider Australian community and beyond.

The study of Yiddish will provide students with the skills to communicate in a language spoken in many parts of the world. Yiddish is taught at major universities in a number of countries and is spoken and understood by many Jews in communities in Israel, Western and Eastern Europe, North America and Latin America, South Africa and Australia. Historically, Jews and Yiddish speakers have made and continue to make a significant contribution to the development of Australian society.

The ability to understand and use Yiddish gives students a direct means of access to the culture associated with the language, and appreciation of its important contribution to Jewish culture and traditions. It also provides valuable links to a host of cultures amongst which Yiddish has evolved, including the Germanic, Slavic, Hebraic and Romance based cultures.

Yiddish has a long, thousand-year-old presence in Europe, and despite much adversity has been successfully transplanted to Jewish communities in new and culturally diverse societies, such as the USA, Canada, Argentina, Mexico, France, South Africa, Australia and Israel. It has been officially recognised by the Israeli Knesset (Parliament) as the lingua franca of Ashkenazic, i.e. European Jewry. The ability to communicate in Yiddish will therefore provide students with valuable skills and links to enhance their opportunities both here and throughout the world.
AIMS

This study is designed to enable students to:

• use Yiddish to communicate with others;
• understand and appreciate the cultural contexts in which Yiddish evolved, flourished and is currently used;
• understand their own culture through the study of other cultures;
• understand language as a system;
• make connections between Yiddish and English, and many other languages such as Hebrew, Germanic, Slavic and Romance languages;
• apply Yiddish to further study, educational, cultural and community pursuits.

STRUCTURE

The study is made up of four units. Each unit deals with specific content and is designed to enable students to achieve a set of outcomes. Each outcome is described in terms of key knowledge and skills.

ENTRY

There are no prerequisites for entry to Units 1, 2 and 3. Students must undertake Unit 3 prior to undertaking Unit 4. Yiddish is designed for students who will, typically, have studied the language for at least 200 hours prior to the commencement of Unit 1. It is possible, however, that some students with less formal experience will also be able to meet the requirements successfully.

Units 1 to 4 are designed to a standard equivalent to the final years of secondary education. All VCE studies are benchmarked against comparable national and international curriculum.

DURATION

Each unit involves at least 50 hours of scheduled classroom instruction.

CHANGES TO THE STUDY DESIGN

During its period of accreditation minor changes to the study will be notified in the VCAA Bulletin. The VCAA Bulletin is the only source of changes to regulations and accredited studies and it is the responsibility of each VCE teacher to monitor changes or advice about VCE studies published in the VCAA Bulletin.

MONITORING FOR QUALITY

As part of ongoing monitoring and quality assurance, the Victorian Curriculum and Assessment Authority will periodically undertake an audit of Yiddish to ensure the study is being taught and assessed as accredited. The details of the audit procedures and requirements are published annually in the VCE and VCAL Administrative Handbook. Schools will be notified during the teaching year of schools and studies to be audited and the required material for submission.
SAFETY
It is the responsibility of the school to ensure that duty of care is exercised in relation to the health and safety of all students undertaking this study.

USE OF INFORMATION AND COMMUNICATIONS TECHNOLOGY
In designing courses for this study teachers should incorporate information and communications technology where appropriate and applicable to the teaching and learning activities. The Advice for Teachers section provides specific examples of how information and communications technology can be used in this study.

KEY COMPETENCIES AND EMPLOYABILITY SKILLS
This study offers a number of opportunities for students to develop key competencies and employability skills. The Advice for Teachers section provides specific examples of how students can demonstrate key competencies during learning activities and assessment tasks.

LEGISLATIVE COMPLIANCE
When collecting and using information, the provisions of privacy and copyright legislation, such as the Victorian Information Privacy Act 2000 and Health Records Act 2001, and the federal Privacy Act 1988 and Copyright Act 1968 must be met.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION AND TRAINING OPTION
Schools wishing to offer the Vocational Education and Training (VET) option should refer to the VCAA LOTE VET supplement.
Assessment and reporting

SATISFACTORY COMPLETION

The award of satisfactory completion for a unit is based on a decision that the student has demonstrated achievement of the set of outcomes specified for the unit. This decision will be based on the teacher’s assessment of the student’s overall performance on assessment tasks designated for the unit. Designated assessment tasks are provided in the details for each unit. The Victorian Curriculum and Assessment Authority publishes an assessment handbook that includes advice on the assessment tasks and performance descriptors for assessment for Units 3 and 4.

Teachers must develop courses that provide opportunities for students to demonstrate achievement of outcomes. Examples of learning activities are provided in the Advice for Teachers section.

Schools will report a result for each unit to the Victorian Curriculum and Assessment Authority as S (Satisfactory) or N (Not Satisfactory).

Completion of a unit will be reported on the Statement of Results issued by the Victorian Curriculum and Assessment Authority as S (Satisfactory) or N (Not Satisfactory). Schools may report additional information on levels of achievement.

AUTHENTICATION

Work related to the outcomes will be accepted only if the teacher can attest that, to the best of their knowledge, all unacknowledged work is the student’s own. Teachers need to refer to the current year’s VCE and VCAL Administrative Handbook for authentication procedures, and should note that all assessment tasks for Units 3 and 4 should be conducted in class time and under supervision.

LEVELS OF ACHIEVEMENT

Units 1 and 2

Procedures for the assessment of levels of achievement in Units 1 and 2 are a matter for school decision. Assessment of levels of achievement for these units will not be reported to the Victorian Curriculum and Assessment Authority. Schools may choose to report levels of achievement using grades, descriptive statements or other indicators.
Units 3 and 4

The Victorian Curriculum and Assessment Authority will supervise the assessment of all students undertaking Units 3 and 4.

In Yiddish the student’s level of achievement will be determined by school-assessed coursework and two end-of-year examinations. The Victorian Curriculum and Assessment Authority will report the student’s level of performance on each assessment component as a grade from A+ to E or UG (ungraded). To receive a study score, students must achieve two or more graded assessments and receive S for both Units 3 and 4. The study score is reported on a scale of 0–50. It is a measure of how well the student performed in relation to all others who took the study. Teachers should refer to the current year’s VCE and VCAL Administrative Handbook for details on graded assessment and calculation of the study score. Percentage contributions to the study score in Yiddish are as follows:

- Unit 3 school-assessed coursework: 25 per cent
- Unit 4 school-assessed coursework: 25 per cent
- Examinations*: oral component 12.5 per cent written component 37.5 per cent

Details of the assessment program are described in the sections on Units 3 and 4 in this study design.

*A single grade is awarded.
Units 1–4: Common areas of study

The areas of study for Yiddish comprise themes and topics, text types, kinds of writing, vocabulary and grammar. They are common to all four units of the study, and they are designed to be drawn upon in an integrated way, as appropriate to the linguistic needs of the student, and the outcomes for the unit. The themes and topics are the vehicle through which the student will demonstrate achievement of the outcomes, in the sense that they form the subject of the activities and tasks the student undertakes. The text types, kinds of writing, vocabulary and grammar are linked, both to each other, and to the themes and topics. Together, as common areas of study, they add a further layer of definition to the knowledge and skills required for successful achievement of the outcomes.

The common areas of study have been selected to provide the opportunity for the student to build upon what is familiar, as well as develop knowledge and skills in new and more challenging areas.

THEMES, TOPICS AND SUB-TOPICS

There are three prescribed themes:

• The individual
• The Yiddish-speaking communities
• The changing world

These themes have a number of prescribed topics and suggested sub-topics. The placement of the topics under one or more of the three themes is intended to provide a particular perspective or perspectives for each of the topics. The suggested sub-topics expand on the topics, and are provided to guide the student and teacher as to how topics may be treated.

It is not expected that all topics will require the same amount of study time. The length of time and depth of treatment devoted to each topic will vary according to the outcomes being addressed, as well as the linguistic needs and interests of the student.

As well as acquiring the linguistic resources to function effectively as a non-specialist within all three themes, the student is required to undertake a detailed study in Units 3 and 4. This detailed study should relate to the prescribed themes and topics and be based on a selected sub-topic. For further details refer to pages 27 and 28.

TEXT TYPES

The student will be expected to be familiar with the following text types. Text types indicated with an asterisk (*) are those which the student may be expected to produce in the external examination. Teachers may introduce the student to a wider range of text types in the course of their teaching and learning program. (Characteristics of some text types are set out in the Advice for Teachers section.)

KINDS OF WRITING

The student is expected to be familiar with, and be able to produce, the following five kinds of writing: personal, imaginative, persuasive, informative and evaluative. (Details of each kind of writing are published in the Advice for Teachers section.)
VOCABULARY

While there is no prescribed vocabulary list, it is expected that the student will be familiar with a range of vocabulary and idioms relevant to the topics prescribed in the study design. Students should be encouraged to use dictionaries. It is expected that teachers will assist students to develop the necessary skills and confidence to use dictionaries effectively. Suitable editions are listed in the Resources section of this study design. Information on the use of dictionaries in the end-of-year written examination is provided on page 29, and published annually in the VCE and VCAL Administrative Handbook.

GRAMMAR

The student is expected to recognise and use the following grammatical items:

A. Nouns

Choice of Masculine or Feminine Nouns

feminine nouns with a masculine equivalent are formed by adding suffix ‘in’ = ‘ין’, e.g. writer = ‘ש赖יבער’

Plural – with endings and changes:
a. endings: ‘n’ = ‘ן’ and ‘en’ = ‘ען’; no changes
b. ending: ‘s’ = ‘ס’; no changes
c. ending: ‘er’ = ‘ער’; no changes
d. endings: ‘er’ = ‘ער’; vowel changes
e. no endings; no changes
f. no ending; vowel changes
g. ending: ‘im’ = ‘ים’; vowel change in plural
h. ending: ‘es’ = ‘ות’; dropping final ‘h’ = ‘ה’; occasional vowel change
i. ending: ‘ekh’ = ‘עך’
j. nouns inflected like adjectives
k. irregular plurals

Choice of Singular or Plural

nouns which represent units of measurement or calculation are in the singular if preceded by a precise number, e.g. three years = ‘דריי יאר’

Declension of Names: Nominative; Accusative; Dative

with endings ‘n’ = ‘ן’; ‘en’ = ‘ען’; ‘t’ = ‘ת’; or stressed vowel diphthong

Use of the Nominative

a. Subject of a sentence is always in the nominative
b. Noun in the predicate is always in the nominative
c. Two nouns in succession is an idiomatic construction, partitive, quantitative, categorising, and uses the nominative without the article

Use of the Accusative

a. Direct object, where a noun used as the direct object of a verb is always in the accusative case, e.g. he sees mother = ‘ער זעט די מאמע’
b. In expressions of time, where nouns denoting specific times or dates at or during events taking place are in the accusative
Use of the Dative

a. With prepositions, every preposition requires the dative case, e.g. with the sister = מיט רעד שוועסטער
b. Where a noun is the indirect object of a verb, it is in the dative case, e.g. we help the aunt = מיר ועלפן רעד מומע
c. Dative of reference, where verbs relating to human experience require the noun denoting the experiencer to be dative, while the noun denoting the experience is in nominative, e.g. mother’s hand hurts = רעד מאמען טיט ווי ר יאָנט

Common Nouns which are Declined: Nominative; Accusative; Dative

with endings ‘n’ = ‘ן’; occasionally dropping final vowel

Possessive Form

with ending ‘s’ = ‘ס’; occasional ‘es’ = ‘עס’

Use of the Possessive formed only from nouns denoting human beings and, as a rule, only from nouns in the singular

B. Articles

Definite Article: Masculine Feminine Neuter Plural

Use of Definite Article

generally corresponds to English usage, but many abstract nouns which do not use it in English, do use it in Yiddish, e.g. life is hard = דאס לעבן איז שווער; but ‘Jews’ is almost always used without the article, e.g. The Jews are a people = ייִדנ פעלק

Indefinite Article

In singular: ‘a’ = ‘א’ or when word begins with a vowel ‘an’ = ‘אן’

In plural: no indefinite article used with plural words

In negative: the definite article is replaced with ‘keyn’ = ‘קיין’, also added in plural

Negative Article

the negative article ‘keyn’ = ‘קיין’ replaces the indefinite article in a negative statement, except in the subject which retains ‘a/an’ = ‘אן’

Omitting the Article in Expressions of Place in idiomatic expressions of place, the definite article is omitted, e.g. in the park = אין פארק, at school = אין שול

Indefinite Amount or Number

materials in indefinite amounts or numbers are denoted by nouns without any article, but in negative statements the negative article is used, e.g. the sugar is sweet = צוקער איז זיס; there’s no sugar = קײַן צוקער איז ניט פאראָן

Agreement with the Noun

an adjective must agree in gender, case and number with the noun which it precedes

Agreement with the Article in the neuter singular, the form of the adjective also depends on whether the definite article precedes it, e.g. a big land = אַ גרויסע לאנד, the big land = דאס גרויסע לאנד

Contractions

with ‘dem’ = ‘דעם’ in the dative case-masculine and neuter, following a preposition is fused with preposition, as ‘n’ = ‘ין’; ‘en’ = ‘ײַן’; ‘m’ = ‘ײָם’; ‘em’ = ‘ײַמפ’
C. Adjectives

Base Form

with cases and gender endings added, with a few exceptions which are never used in a base form.

Gender Endings

with adjectives used before a noun, endings match the gender of the noun, with the following endings, masculine: 'er' = 'ער'; feminine: 'e' = 'ע'; neuter: 'e' = 'ע' only when following the definite article plural: 'e'='ע' for all genders and cases

Declension: Masculine Feminine Neuter Plural
Nominative: 'er' = 'ער' 'e' = 'ע' 'e' = 'ע' 'e' = 'ע'
Accusative: 'er' = 'ער' 'e' = 'ע' 'e' = 'ע' 'e' = 'ע'
Dative & 'n' = 'ן'
Possessive: 'em' = 'עם'

Adjectives in the Predicate

stay in base form with no ending changes, except neuter adjectives in the predicate with indefinite article has 's' = 'ס' endings and in plural 'e' = 'ע'

Supporting 'e' = 'ע' some cases insert the 'e' = 'ע' before the 'n' = 'ן' or 'm' = 'מ'

Adjectives in the Predicate

if the adjective refers to the subject, the adjective in the predicate must agree with its gender and number, but the adjective in its base form can also be used, e.g. my brother is young = 'מיין ברודער איז א יונגער'

Comparison

a. Comparative: has added ending 'er' = 'ער', and then inflected according to gender, case and number
b. Superlative: has added ending 'st' = 'סט', and then inflected according to gender, case and number
c. Changes in the base vowel occur in adjectives in comparative and superlative cases

Comparative

the preposition 'from/of' = 'פון' followed by the dative, or the conjunction 'than' = 'ווי' followed by the nominative, is used after the comparative, e.g. smaller than I = 'קלענער ווי איך'

Uninflected Adjectives

with bases ending in 'er' = 'ער' or 'aner' = 'אנער', formed from geographical names, are not inflected, retain same form

Possessive Adjectives

include: my = 'מיין'; its = 'איבר'; our = 'אוןדזער'; your = 'דיין'; his = 'שין'; her = 'איר'; their = 'זייער', with ending 'e' = 'ע' added in plural

Avoiding Possessive Adjectives

when the possessive relationship is obvious, the definite article is used instead of the possessive, e.g. he lives at his mother’s = 'ער וואוינט ביי רעד מאמען'

Numeral Adjectives

formed from corresponding numerals 1–8; with ending 't' = 'ט' for 9–19; and 'st' = 'סט' for 20 and above

Inflection of 'other' = 'אנדרט' when preceded by the indefinite article

Adjectives used without Nouns adjectives can be used as nouns, but are inflected as adjectives, e.g. I spoke with the youngster = 'איך האב גערעדט מיטן יונגן'

D. Adverbs

Adverbs formed from Adjectives remain the same as the base of the adjective, e.g. beautiful – beautifully = ‘ StringBuffer ’

Comparative
remain the same as the comparative of the adjective, e.g. more beautiful – more beautifully = ‘ StringBuffer ’

Superlative
with ‘most’ = ‘beautifully’ and the masculine-neuter, dative form of superlative of adjective, e.g. most beautifully = ‘ StringBuffer ’

Adverbs Indicating Place
these are: where? = ‘איך’, with preposition e.g. from where = ‘אילו-Americans’; where to? = ‘אילו-Americans’; here = ‘איך’ and from here = ‘אילו-Americans’; there = ‘אילו-Americans’; to there = ‘אילו-Americans’

Additional Adverbs Indicating Place
somewhere = ‘אילו-Americans’; everywhere = ‘אילו-Americans’; nowhere = ‘אילו-Americans’

Adverbs Indicating Time

Numeral Adverbs
with addition of ending ‘ns’ = ‘אילו-Americans’ to the base form of corresponding numerical adjectives, e.g. firstly = ‘אילו-Americans’

Use of Numerals without a Noun to avoid a redundancy, a noun can be omitted after a numeral if the reference is obvious, e.g. ‘give me one coffee now and one after’ = ‘אילו-Americans’

E. Pronouns

Personal Pronouns
Singular 1st, 2nd, 3rd Person – Masculine; Feminine; Neuter; Impersonal – in Nominative

Accusative; Dative cases
Plural 1st, 2nd, 3rd Person – in Nominative; Accusative; Dative cases
First person plural forms: ‘mir’ = ‘אילו-Americans’; ‘mikh’ = ‘אילו-Americans’

Use of ‘one/they/people’ = ‘אילו-Americans’ this is an impersonal pronoun which means ‘one/they/people’ and is often rendered by a passive construction without a subject, taking the third person singular of the verb, e.g. they say it is very cold = ‘אילו-Americans’

Other Pronouns Indicating Persons
a. who = ‘אילו-Americans’ – in Nominative; Accusative; Dative; Possessive
b. somebody, someone = ‘אילו-Americans’ – in Nominative; Accusative; Dative; Possessive
c. everybody, everyone = ‘אילו-Americans’ – Masculine; Feminine; – in Nominative; Accusative; Dative; Possessive
d. nobody, no one = ‘אילו-Americans’

The Pronoun ‘each’ = ‘אילו-Americans’ not usually inflected, may be used in its base form in all cases and genders

Pronouns Indicating Things
these are: what = ‘אילו-Americans’; something = ‘אילו-Americans’; everything = ‘אילו-Americans’; nothing = ‘אילו-Americans’

Demonstrative Pronouns
the definite articles ‘der’ = ‘אילו-Americans’; ‘di’ = ‘אילו-Americans’; ‘dos’ = ‘אילו-Americans’, used as demonstrative pronouns meaning ‘this’, ‘these’

Familiar and formal address familiar persons or children are addressed with second person singular ‘you’ = ‘אילו-Americans’, unfamiliar or respected with second person plural ‘you’ = ‘אילו-Americans’ as in French, e.g. where are you going? = ‘אילו-Americans’
F. Numerals

Numerals

denote cardinal numbers. For numbers 1–20, the basic forms are used, e.g. 1 = 'eyns' = 'יאנס', 2 = 'tov' = 'תוֹב'. Above 20, the tens and units are combined, e.g. 21 = 'one and twenty' = 'דAdapterFactory', 'דAdapterFactory'.

The Numeral One

Numerals for numerals 1–20 cardinal set; above 20, unit then deca/tens, e.g. 21 = 'one and twenty' = 'דAdapterFactory', 'דAdapterFactory'.

The Numeral One

counting numbers uses 'eyns' = 'יאנס', counting object 'eyn' = 'יאן'.

Fractional Numerals

denominator denoted by adding 'l' = 'ל' to the base of the corresponding numeral adjective, e.g. one third = 'ואاخبارל'.

Walum: one and a half = 'אנדערータלב'.

G. Verbs

Base of Verb

to which endings of the present tense are added, identical with first person singular of the present tense.

Present Tense

endings added to the base of the verb to form the present tense:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Singular</th>
<th>Plural</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>First Person: (base form)</td>
<td>'n' = 'ן'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Second Person:</td>
<td>'st' = 'סט'</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Third Person:</td>
<td>'t' = 'ט'</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Irregular forms:

a. some irregular verbs with no ending in the third person singular, e.g. he can = 'ער קען'

b. some endings of 'en' = 'ען', with verbs ending with 'g' = 'ג', e.g. 'ניען'

c. base ending in unstressed 'e' = 'ע', e.g. 'ענש

d. base ending in 't' = 'ט', no ending is added in third person singular or second person plural.

e. base ending in 's' = 'ס', the ending of second person singular is 'st' = 'סט', not 's' = 'ס'.

f. base ending in syllabic 'n' = 'ן'.

g. three irregular verbs: to have = 'האבן'; to be = 'זאין'; to want = 'וועלן'; to give = 'געבן'

e. do you work? = 'דואטע

Meaning of Present Tense

in Yiddish the present tense covers both the simple and the progressive/continuous present, e.g. I am reading = 'איך רימט'.

Use of tenses in indirect discourse in indirect discourse the present tense denotes action simultaneous, the past with prior and future, following, e.g. she said she does not understand = 'זא זאגט אז זי פארשטייט נישט'.

Imperative

a. imperative proper, singular imperative identical with base of verb; plural imperative formed by adding ending 't' = 'ט'.

b. first person plural imperative constructed with 'let us' = 'לאמיר' plus the infinitive.

c. third person singular and plural imperative constructed with 'he may/they may' = 'זאלן זי', 'זאלן ער'.

Present Participle

formed by adding 'dik' = 'דיק' to the form of the first or third person plural of the present tense.

Variations such as, e.g. giving = 'געבנַדיק'; wanting = 'ואעלנדיק'; knowing = 'ויזאנדיק'.

Use of Present Participle used to indicate action by the subject simultaneously with the action described by the main verb, e.g. I sang whilst walking = 'געזונגען געבנַדיק'.

\[18\]
Infinitive
formed by adding the ending ‘ן’ = ‘ן’ or ‘en’ = ‘ן’ to the verbal base exceptions such as, e.g. to go = ‘יינן’; to give = ‘ען’; to know = ‘ון’, change vowel in first and third person plural

Use of the Infinitive
the infinitive is used without the ‘to’ = ‘ן’ after certain verbs, e.g. I am learning to drive a car = ‘איך לערן פי אן אויטא’; every infinitive can be used as a noun, either as subject or object of a verb, e.g. to laugh is healthy = ‘איך געשונט’

Future Tense
formed by the infinitive preceded by the proper form of the future auxiliary of ‘will’ = ‘וועל’

Past Participle
a. participles adding the prefix ‘ге’ = ‘גע’ and suffix ‘ן’ = ‘ן’ to the verb base
b. participles adding the prefix ‘ге’ = ‘גע’ and suffix ‘ען/en’ = ‘ען’ to the verb base, which may also change vowels

Past Tense
formed by adding its past participle to the proper form of its auxiliary verbs ‘have’ = ‘סכוך’ or ‘be’ = ‘איך’

Meaning of Past Tense
in Yiddish the past tense covers past, present perfect and past progressive, e.g. ‘I slept...’ = ‘איך בין געשלאפן’; ‘she has read...’ = ‘ווי האט געלייענט’

Conditional Form
formed by adding its past participle to the proper form of its auxiliary verb ‘would’ = ‘וועך’, conjugated regularly; also other forms, e.g. ‘ven’ = ‘וועך’

Repeated Action
formed by the infinitive added to the proper form of the auxiliary ‘used to’ = ‘פלעג’, conjugated regularly

Complemented Verbs
formed by inflected verbal part and an uninflected adverbial complement, e.g. ‘I begin to’ = ‘איך הייב אן’ and conjugated; converses with auxiliary as prefix, e.g. ‘אנהייבך’

Verbs with ‘self’ = ‘זיך’
a number of verbs always add ‘self’ = ‘זיך’, e.g. undress (oneself) = ‘אוייסטאן זיך’; hide (oneself) = ‘באהאלטן זיך’

Periphrastic Verbs
formed by an invariable element and an auxiliary conjugated in all tenses, e.g. to be afraid = ‘מורא האבן’

Avoiding Redundant Verbs
when the same verb appears in two consecutive clauses, it should be avoided, e.g. ‘he understood and so did I’ = ‘ער האט פארשטאנען און איך אויך’

Sentence Units
this is a word or group of words which perform, together, a syntactical function in a sentence.

H. Word Order

Normal Word Order
basic rule is that inflected verb, unless it is an imperative, must be the second unit of the sentence.

Expletive ‘it’ = ‘עס’
this pronoun may take the place of the subject at the beginning of the sentence as an expletive, e.g. it is the right time = ‘עס לי ריכטיקע צייט’

Consecutive Word Order in the consecutive word order, the inflected verb is the first sentence unit, e.g. my mother died, I was left alone, I had to start working = ‘מיין מאמע איז געשטארבן, בין איך געבליבן אליין האב איך אנגעהויבן צו ארבעטן’
I. Clauses

Relative Clauses
in which the relative pronoun is the subject or direct object formed, just as in English, e.g. the man who is sitting there = 'רעד מאן וואס זיצט דארטנ’

Conditional Sentences
in conditional sentences, the conditional form of the verb is used in both clauses, e.g. if I were rich I would... = 'ווען איך וואלט געווען רייך, וואלט איך ...

Direct Questions
question words: who = ‘ווער; what = ‘וואס; when = ‘ווען; how = ‘וי; and extensions a question requiring a ‘yes’ or ‘no’ answer, usually begins with the word ‘n/a?’ = ‘‡, e.g. ... were you there? = ‘‡ ביסטו דארטנ געווען

Indirect Questions
in indirect questions, the interrogative pronoun, adverb, and ‘?’ = ‘‡ are not treated as separate sentence units, e.g. I don’t know who that is = ‘איך ווייס נישט ווער דאס איז; I don’t know if she was there = ‘איך ווייס נישט צי זי איז דארטנ געווען’
Unit 1

AREAS OF STUDY
The areas of study common to Units 1–4 are detailed on pages 12–20 of this study design.

OUTCOMES
For this unit the student is required to demonstrate achievement of three outcomes.

Outcome 1
On completion of this unit the student should be able to establish and maintain a spoken or written exchange related to personal areas of experience.

Key knowledge and skills
To achieve this outcome the student should demonstrate the knowledge and skills to:
• use structures related to describing, explaining and commenting on past, present or future events or experiences, both real and imaginary;
• initiate, maintain and close an exchange;
• use a range of question and answer forms;
• link and sequence ideas and information;
• recognise and respond to cues for turn taking;
• self-correct/rephrase or use fillers to maintain communication;
• communicate in a range of text types, for example letter, fax, email;
• communicate face-to-face or by telephone;
• use appropriate intonation, stress, pitch, spelling and punctuation;
• use appropriate non-verbal forms of communication.
Outcome 2
On completion of this unit the student should be able to listen to, read and obtain information from spoken and written texts.

Key knowledge and skills
To achieve this outcome the student should demonstrate the knowledge and skills to:
• apply knowledge of conventions of text types;
• identify key words, main points and supporting ideas;
• order, classify and link items from various parts of the text;
• apply knowledge of vocabulary and structures related to the topics studied;
• recognise common patterns of word formation, cognates, grammatical markers, and use these to infer meaning;
• convey gist and global understanding as well as items of specific detail;
• establish and confirm meaning through re-reading, using headings and diagrams, and referring to dictionaries.

Outcome 3
On completion of this unit the student should be able to produce a personal response to a text focusing on real or imaginary experience.

Key knowledge and skills
To achieve this outcome the student should demonstrate the knowledge and skills to:
• apply the conventions of text types, for example review, article;
• use structures related to explaining, describing, comparing and commenting on past, present and future events or experiences;
• use stylistic features, such as repetition and contrast;
• identify main ideas, events and sequences of action;
• link ideas, events and characters;
• summarise, explain, compare and contrast experiences, opinions, ideas, feelings and reactions;
• select and make use of relevant reference materials;
• provide personal comment/perspective on aspects of texts;
• respond appropriately for the context, purpose and audience described.

ASSESSMENT
The award of satisfactory completion for a unit is based on a decision that the student has demonstrated achievement of the set of outcomes specified for the unit. This decision will be based on the teacher’s assessment of the student’s overall performance on assessment tasks designated for the unit.

The key knowledge and skills listed for each outcome should be used as a guide to course design and the development of learning activities. The key knowledge and skills do not constitute a checklist and such an approach is not necessary or desirable for determining achievement of outcomes. The elements of key knowledge and skills should not be assessed separately.

Assessment tasks must be a part of the regular teaching and learning program and must not unduly add to the workload associated with that program. They must be completed in class and under supervision.
Demonstration of achievement of Outcomes 1, 2 and 3 must be based on the student’s performance on a selection of assessment tasks. Teachers must ensure that tasks selected are of comparable scope and demand, and that over the course of the unit, all three outcomes are addressed.

A total of four tasks should be selected from those listed below.

Outcome 1:
- informal conversation

  or

- reply to personal letter/fax/email.

Outcome 2:
- listen to spoken texts (e.g. conversations, interviews, broadcasts) to obtain information to complete notes, charts or tables in Yiddish or English

  and

- read written texts (e.g. extracts, advertisements, letters) to obtain information to complete notes, charts or tables in Yiddish or English.

Outcome 3:
- oral presentation

  or

- review

  or

- article.

It is expected that the student responds in Yiddish to all assessment tasks that are selected to address Outcomes 1 and 3. Of the two tasks required for Outcome 2, one should require a response in Yiddish, and the other a response in English. Over the course of the unit, both oral and written skills in Yiddish should be assessed. Therefore if an oral task is selected to address Outcome 1, a written task should be selected to address Outcome 3, and vice versa.
Unit 2

AREAS OF STUDY
The areas of study common to Units 1–4 are detailed on pages 12–20 of this study design.

OUTCOMES
For this unit the student is required to demonstrate achievement of three outcomes.

Outcome 1
On completion of this unit the student should be able to participate in a spoken or written exchange related to making arrangements and completing transactions.

Key knowledge and skills
To achieve this outcome the student should demonstrate the knowledge and skills to:
• use structures related to asking for or giving assistance or advice, suggesting, explaining, agreeing and disagreeing;
• use fillers, affirming phrases and formulaic expressions related to negotiation/transaction;
• make arrangements and complete a transaction;
• obtain and provide goods, services or public information;
• link and sequence ideas and demonstrate clarity of expression in spoken or written form;
• initiate, maintain, direct as appropriate, and close an exchange;
• use stance, gesture, facial expression to enhance meaning and persuade;
• use appropriate non-verbal forms of communication;
• use examples and reasons to support arguments, and to convince;
• respond appropriately for the context, purpose and audience described.
Outcome 2
On completion of this unit the student should be able to listen to, read, and extract and use information and ideas from spoken and written texts.

Key knowledge and skills
To achieve this outcome the student should demonstrate the knowledge and skills to:
• apply the conventions of relevant text types such as a letter or a newspaper report;
• use vocabulary, structures and content related to topics studied;
• infer points of view, opinions and ideas;
• classify, compare and predict information and ideas;
• extract and reorganise information and ideas from one text type to another;
• appreciate cultural aspects critical to understanding the text.

Outcome 3
On completion of this unit the student should be able to give expression to real or imaginary experience in spoken or written form.

Key knowledge and skills
To achieve this outcome the student should demonstrate the knowledge and skills to:
• apply the conventions of relevant text types;
• use structures related to describing, recounting, narrating, reflecting upon past, present or future events or experiences;
• use a range of appropriate vocabulary and expressions;
• structure writing to sequence main ideas and events logically;
• use stylistic techniques such as repetition, questions and exclamations;
• vary language for audience, context and purpose.

ASSESSMENT
The award of satisfactory completion for a unit is based on a decision that the student has demonstrated achievement of the set of outcomes specified for the unit. This decision will be based on the teacher’s assessment of the student’s overall performance on assessment tasks designated for the unit.

The key knowledge and skills listed for each outcome should be used as a guide to course design and the development of learning activities. The key knowledge and skills do not constitute a checklist and such an approach is not necessary or desirable for determining achievement of outcomes. The elements of key knowledge and skills should not be assessed separately.

Assessment tasks must be a part of the regular teaching and learning program and must not unduly add to the workload associated with that program. They must be completed in class and under supervision.

Demonstration of the achievement of Outcomes 1, 2 and 3 must be based on the student’s performance on a selection of assessment tasks. Teachers must ensure that tasks selected are of comparable scope and demand, and that over the course of the unit, all three outcomes are addressed.
A total of four tasks should be selected from those listed below.

Outcome 1:
- formal letter, or fax, or email
  or
- role-play
  or
- interview.

Outcome 2:
- listen to spoken texts (e.g. conversations, interviews, broadcasts) and reorganise information and ideas in a different text type
  and
- read written texts (e.g. extracts, advertisements, letters) and reorganise information and ideas in a different text type.

Outcome 3:
- journal entry
  or
- personal account
  or
- short story.

It is expected that the texts used are in Yiddish and that the student responds in Yiddish to all assessment tasks selected. Over the course of the unit, both oral and written skills in Yiddish should be assessed. Therefore if an oral task is selected to address Outcome 1, a written task should be selected to address Outcome 3, and vice versa.
Units 3 and 4

DETAILED STUDY

The student is required to undertake a detailed study during Units 3 and 4. The student will be expected to discuss their detailed study in Section 2, Discussion, of the Oral Examination.

Over the course of Units 3 and 4, approximately 15 hours of scheduled class time should be devoted to the detailed study.

The detailed study should be based on a sub-topic related to one or more of the prescribed topics listed in the table on page 13. The sub-topic may be drawn from this table, or a different sub-topic may be selected.

One sub-topic may be selected for a whole class. It will be important to select a sub-topic that is sufficiently broad to accommodate a range of interests and perspectives, so that each student can provide an individual response to the coursework assessment task(s) set, as well as in the Discussion in Section 2 of the Oral Examination. Alternatively, different sub-topics may be selected for individuals or groups of students.

At least one and no more than two of the six assessment tasks for school-assessed coursework should focus on the detailed study. The detailed study assessment task(s) should be designed to assess the student’s understanding of the language and culture of the Yiddish-speaking community and should be selected from those required to assess achievement of Outcome 2, Unit 4 (detailed on page 33). The sub-topics and texts should also be selected to ensure the student is able to focus on the knowledge and skills associated with Outcome 2, Unit 4.

Language and culture through texts

The detailed study should enable the student to explore and compare aspects of the language and culture of the Yiddish-speaking community through a range of oral and written texts in Yiddish related to the selected sub-topic. This will enable the student to develop knowledge and understanding of, for example, historical issues, aspects of contemporary society or the literary or artistic heritage of the community. The texts which form the basis of this study might include feature films, short films, short stories, songs, newspaper articles, electronic texts, documentaries, music, painting and oral histories. The length of texts selected will vary depending on the type of text, its density and level of complexity.
In order for the student to be able to explore their sub-topic in sufficient depth to meet the relevant outcomes, it is suggested that a range of at least three different kinds of text are selected. These might include aural and visual, as well as written texts.

Language and culture thorough VET

Schools wishing to offer the Vocational Education and Training (VET) option should refer to the VCAA LOTE VET supplement.
Unit 3

AREAS OF STUDY

The areas of study common to Units 1–4 are detailed on pages 12–20 of this study design.

OUTCOMES

For this unit the student is required to demonstrate achievement of three outcomes.

Outcome 1

On completion of this unit the student should be able to express ideas through the production of original texts.

Key knowledge and skills

To achieve this outcome the student should demonstrate the knowledge and skills to:

- use a range of relevant text types;
- create a personal or imaginative text focusing on an event or experience in the past, present or future;
- demonstrate knowledge of first- and third-person narrative perspectives;
- vary language for audience, context and purpose, and change style and register appropriately;
- organise and sequence ideas;
- simplify or paraphrase complex expressions;
- use simple stylistic techniques such as repetition, questions, exclamations or changes in tone, speed of delivery;
- select and make appropriate use of reference materials, including dictionaries.
Outcome 2
On completion of this unit the student should be able to analyse and use information from spoken texts.

Key knowledge and skills
To achieve this outcome the student should demonstrate the knowledge and skills to:
- convey gist, identify main points, supporting points and detailed items of specific information;
- infer points of view, attitudes, emotions from context and/or choice of language and intonation;
- show knowledge of registers and stylistic features such as repetition and tone.

Outcome 3
On completion of this unit the student should be able to exchange information, opinions and experiences.

Key knowledge and skills
To achieve this outcome the student should demonstrate the knowledge and skills to:
- present and comment on factual information;
- use a range of question forms;
- exchange and justify opinions and ideas;
- ask for and give assistance or advice;
- use appropriate terms of address for familiar and unfamiliar audiences;
- self-correct/rephrase to maintain communication;
- describe and comment on aspects of past, present and future or hypothetical experience;
- link and sequence ideas and information at sentence and paragraph level.

ASSESSMENT
The award of satisfactory completion for a unit is based on a decision that the student has demonstrated achievement of the set of outcomes specified for the unit. This decision will be based on the teacher’s assessment of the student’s overall performance on assessment tasks designated for the unit. The Victorian Curriculum and Assessment Authority publishes an assessment handbook that includes advice on the assessment tasks and performance descriptors for assessment.

The key knowledge and skills listed for each outcome should be used as a guide to course design and the development of learning activities. The key knowledge and skills do not constitute a checklist and such an approach is not necessary or desirable for determining the achievement of outcomes. The elements of key knowledge and skills should not be assessed separately.

Assessment of levels of achievement
The student’s level of achievement for Unit 3 will be determined by school-assessed coursework and two end-of-year examinations.

Contributions to final assessment
School-assessed coursework for Unit 3 will contribute 25 per cent to the study score.

The level of achievement for Units 3 and 4 will also be assessed by two end-of-year examinations, which will contribute 50 per cent to the study score.
School-assessed coursework

Teachers will provide to the Victorian Curriculum and Assessment Authority a score representing an assessment of the student’s level of achievement.

The score must be based on the teacher’s rating of performance of each student on the tasks set out in the following table and in accordance with an assessment handbook published by the Victorian Curriculum and Assessment Authority. The assessment handbook also includes advice on the assessment tasks and performance descriptors for assessment.

Assessment tasks must be a part of the regular teaching and learning program and must not unduly add to the workload associated with that program. They must be completed in class time and under supervision. It is expected that the student responds in Yiddish to all assessment tasks.

Unit 4

AREAS OF STUDY

The areas of study common to Units 1–4 are detailed on pages 12–20 of this study design.

OUTCOMES

For this unit the student is required to demonstrate achievement of two outcomes.

Outcome 1

On completion of this unit the student should be able to analyse and use information from written texts.

Key knowledge and skills

To achieve this outcome the student should demonstrate the knowledge and skills to:

- show knowledge of and use a range of text types;
- understand and convey gist, identify main points, and extract and use information;
- infer points of view, attitudes, emotions form context and/or choice of language;
- summarise, interpret and evaluate information from texts;
- compare and contrast aspects of texts on a similar topic;
- accurately convey understanding;
- show knowledge of and use simple stylistic features such as repetition and contrast;
- infer meaning from cognates, grammatical markers, and common patterns of word formation;
- appreciate cultural aspects critical to understanding the text.
Outcome 2
On completion of this unit the student should be able to respond critically to spoken and written texts which reflect aspects of the language and culture of Yiddish-speaking communities.

Key knowledge and skills
To achieve this outcome the student should demonstrate the knowledge and skills to:
• compare and contrast aspects of life in Yiddish-speaking communities in Australia and abroad with each other and within other communities;
• identify and comment on culturally specific aspects of language, behaviour or attitude;
• present an opinion on an aspect of the culture associated with the language;
• identify similarities and differences between texts, and find evidence to support particular views;
• show awareness that different social contexts require different types of language;
• select and make use of relevant reference materials.

ASSESSMENT
The award of satisfactory completion for a unit is based on a decision that the student has demonstrated achievement of the set of outcomes specified for the unit. This decision will be based on the teacher’s assessment of the student’s overall performance on assessment tasks designated for the unit. The Victorian Curriculum and Assessment Authority publishes an assessment handbook that includes advice on the assessment tasks and performance descriptors for assessment.

The key knowledge and skills listed for each outcome should be used as a guide to course design and the development of learning activities. The key knowledge and skills do not constitute a checklist and such an approach is not necessary or desirable for determining the achievement of outcomes. The elements of key knowledge and skills should not be assessed separately.

Assessment of levels of achievement
The student’s level of achievement for Unit 4 will be determined by school-assessed coursework and two end-of-year examinations.

Contributions to final assessment
School-assessed coursework for Unit 4 will contribute 25 per cent to the study score.

The level of achievement for Units 3 and 4 will also be assessed by two end-of-year examinations, which will contribute 50 per cent to the study score.

School-assessed coursework
Teachers will provide to the Victorian Curriculum and Assessment Authority a score representing an assessment of the student’s level of achievement.

The score must be based on the teacher’s rating of performance of each student on the tasks set out in the following table and in accordance with an assessment handbook published by the Victorian Curriculum and Assessment Authority. The assessment handbook also includes advice on the assessment tasks and performance descriptors for assessment.

Assessment tasks must be a part of the regular teaching and learning program and must not unduly add to the workload associated with that program. They must be completed in class time and under supervision. The student must respond in Yiddish to all assessment tasks.
End-of-year examinations

The end-of-year examinations are:

• an oral examination
• a written examination.

Oral examination (approximately 15 minutes)

Purpose

The oral examination is designed primarily to assess the student’s knowledge and skill in using spoken Yiddish.

Specifications

The oral examination has two sections.

Section 1: Conversation (approximately 7 minutes)

The examination will begin with a conversation between the student and the assessor(s). It will consist of a general conversation about the student’s personal world, for example, school and home life, family and friends, interests and aspirations.

Section 2: Discussion (approximately 8 minutes)

Following the Conversation the student will indicate to the assessor(s) the sub-topic chosen for detailed study and, in no more than one minute, briefly introduce the main focus of their sub-topic, alerting assessors to any objects brought to support the discussion. The focus of the discussion will be to explore aspects of the language and culture of Yiddish-speaking communities and the student will be expected to make reference to texts studied.

The student may support the Discussion with objects such as photographs, diagrams, and maps. Notes and cue cards are not permitted. (For details on the VET option, teachers should refer to the LOTE VET Supplement.)
Written examination (3 hours including 10 minutes reading time)
The student may use monolingual and/or bilingual print dictionaries in the written examination.

Section 1: Listening and responding

Purpose

Section 1 of the written examination is designed primarily to assess the student’s knowledge and skill in analysing information from spoken texts.

The student will be expected to demonstrate understanding of general and specific information from spoken texts and respond in English in Part A and Yiddish in Part B to questions on this information. The questions may require the student to identify information related to:

- the context, purpose and audience of the text;
- aspects of the language of the text, for example, tone, register, knowledge of language structures.

Specifications

Section 1 of the written examination has two parts, Part A and Part B. The texts in both parts will be related to one or more of the prescribed themes.

The student hears five to seven texts in Yiddish covering a number of text types. The total listening time for one reading of the texts without pauses will be approximately 7–8 minutes. Some texts will be short, that is one reading of each text will be approximately 35–45 seconds. Some texts will be longer, that is one reading of each text will be approximately 90–120 seconds.

Each text will be heard twice. There will be a pause between the first and second readings in which the student may take notes. The student will be given sufficient time after the second reading to complete responses.

The student will be expected to respond to a range of question types, such as completing a table, chart, list or form, or responding to a message, open-ended questions or multiple-choice items.

Part A

There will be two to four short texts and one longer text.

Questions will be phrased in English for responses in English.

Part B

There will be one short text and one longer text.

Questions will be phrased in Yiddish and English for responses in Yiddish.

Section 2: Reading and responding

Purpose

Section 2 of the written examination is designed primarily to assess the student’s knowledge and skill in analysing and responding to information from written texts.

In Part A the student will be required to demonstrate understanding of written texts. The student may be required to extract, summarise, and/or evaluate information from texts. If the texts are related, the student may be required to compare and/or contrast aspects of both.

In Part B the student will be expected to demonstrate understanding of a written text by responding in Yiddish to information provided in a text.
Specifications
Section 2 of the written examination has two parts, Part A and Part B. The texts in both parts will be related to one or more of the prescribed themes.

Part A
The student will be required to read two texts in Yiddish of 400–500 words in total. The texts will be different in style and purpose, but may be related in subject matter or context.
Questions on the texts will be phrased in English for responses in English.

Part B
The student will be required to read a short text in Yiddish of approximately 150 words, such as a letter, message, advertisement, or notice. The student will be required to respond to questions, statements, comments and/or other specific items provided in the written text. The task will specify a purpose, context and audience. The text type the student will be required to produce will be drawn from those listed for productive use on page 13.
The student will be expected to write a response of 150–200 words in Yiddish. The task will be phrased in English and Yiddish for a response in Yiddish.

Section 3: Writing in Yiddish
Purpose
Section 3 of the written examination is designed primarily to assess the student’s ability to express ideas through the creation of original text in Yiddish.

Specifications
The student will be required to write a text involving presentation of ideas and/or information and/or opinions. There will be a choice of two to four tasks. The tasks will be related to one or more of the prescribed themes. Tasks will accommodate a range of student interests and will be set to ensure that the student is provided with opportunities for producing different kinds of writing (personal, imaginative, persuasive, informative and evaluative) through, for example:
• having different purposes, audiences and contexts;
• requiring different text types (see table of text types for productive use).
The student will be required to write a response of 200–250 words in Yiddish. The tasks will be phrased in English and Yiddish for a response in Yiddish.

Advice for teachers

DEVELOPING A COURSE

A course outlines the nature and sequence of teaching and learning necessary for students to demonstrate achievement of the set of outcomes for a unit. Outcomes are introduced by summary statements and are followed by the key knowledge and skills which relate to the outcomes.

It is recognised that the four macroskills of listening, reading, writing and speaking are elements that generally operate in an integrated way. Nevertheless, it is usually possible to identify a focus skill, or combination of skills that predominate in the performance of a particular task or activity. This approach is reflected in the organisation of the outcomes, and the key knowledge and skills associated with them. The overall balance of emphasis across the macroskills in assessment tasks is indicated in the table on page 39.

Teachers must develop courses that include appropriate learning activities to enable students to develop the knowledge and skills identified in the outcome statements in each unit. For Units 1 and 2, teachers must select assessment tasks from those provided. Tasks do not have to be lengthy to make a decision about student demonstration of achievement of an outcome.

In Units 3 and 4, assessment is more structured. For school-assessed coursework, assessment tasks are prescribed. The contribution that each task makes to the total school-assessed coursework is also stipulated.

Methods

Any communicative teaching method or combination of methods which allows students to achieve the outcomes of the course is appropriate. Since the aims and outcomes emphasise communication, teaching methods should ensure that students are provided with a high level of appropriate input in the language, and are involved in activities which encourage purposeful language use.

Teachers should note, however, that the listing of vocabulary, grammatical structures, and other elements of language indicates that a focus on these is also a necessary part of students’ preparation. Teachers themselves will judge at what points in their course such instruction will be needed.

Structure and organisation

The idea of an organisational focus may be helpful in planning and sequencing learning activities and assessment tasks, and the content associated with them. Themes and topics can serve as effective organisational focuses for activities, as can a discourse form, a skill or a text.
USE OF INFORMATION AND COMMUNICATIONS TECHNOLOGY

In designing courses and developing learning activities for Yiddish, teachers should make use of applications of information and communications technology and new learning technologies, such as computer-based learning, multimedia and the World Wide Web, where appropriate and applicable to teaching and learning activities.

In considering the suitability of learning activities in the delivery of language courses, teachers may find the following applications useful.

Language learning applications

Students can access:

• on the school intranet: homework, work sheets, resources (including audio files and interactive software), a class chat room, curriculum statements, sample tasks, web links, sample examinations;
• online learning, such as reading or listening comprehension tasks, grammar and vocabulary building tasks, pronunciation drills, script programs;
• email discussion groups or supervised chat rooms with targeted groups of young people;
• commercially available products, such as CD-ROMs, that offer language exercises, practice or reading materials;
• video conferencing with students from other schools where the language is taught or in a country where the language is spoken.

Students can develop their own:

• vocabulary database;
• word-processing skills in the language.

Information gathering

Students can use the Internet to research:

• statistics on a specific topic in relation to different age groups and gender;
• information related to a specific lifestyle issue, public opinion, theme or topic in countries where the language is spoken;
• biographical data relating to famous singers, bands, historical figures and sportspeople;
• features of fairy tales, legends, common characters and themes, the role of magic, terminology and special language used;
• speakers of the language in Australia, their life and contribution to society;
• websites from countries where the language is spoken; for example, Webcams, school websites, venues, services;
• newspapers and journals in the language;
• online and talking dictionaries.

Students can also:

• check spelling and grammar for written tasks;
• use instructions in the language to install, construct or use a product.
Presentation applications

Students can use information and communications technology to:
• create animations, multimedia, PowerPoint and web page presentations;
• use a data projector, digital video, digital camera and desktop publishing package;
• download visuals, design computer-generated visuals;
• record audio tracks, download audio materials to complement presentations;
• take notes in class or word process in the language;
• use communication media such as the telephone, email, fax;
• email tasks to the teacher from home or the classroom.

KEY COMPETENCIES AND EMPLOYABILITY SKILLS

Students undertaking the following types of assessment, in addition to demonstrating their understanding and mastery of the content of the study, typically demonstrate the following key competencies and employability skills.

MAINT CHARACTERISTICS OF DIFFERENT KINDS OF WRITING

The following descriptions outline the main characteristics of five different kinds of writing. They are intended as a guide only; students would not be expected to include all aspects in their writing.

Personal writing:
- Creates a sense of person/personality for the writer in the reader’s mind.
- Establishes a relationship/intimacy/empathy between the writer and the reader.
- Usually employs first and/or second person; subjective; informal, familiar style/register; often includes emotive language.
- Emphasises ideas, opinions, feelings and impressions, rather than factual, objective information.
- Uses, in reflective writing, the act of writing to help the author understand and unravel his/her own feelings or ideas.
- May, in certain contexts, use contracted language, such as is used in speech.

Imaginative writing:
- Manipulates the reader’s response to the piece to create the desired impression or response; visual and/or emotional appeal.
- Usually creates a strong sense of context (physical surroundings and atmosphere) and situation.
- Normally includes description (person, place, emotion, atmosphere), so careful selection of language such as adjectives and adverbs (or their equivalents) are important.
- Uses techniques such as variation in sentence length, juxtaposition of different sentence lengths, careful control of structure and sequencing, to add to the overall effect by creating the desired atmosphere or conveying the required emotion.
- May break normal sequencing for added impact, such as in a flashback or in a final disclosure which puts a different interpretation on preceding passages.

Persuasive writing:
- Manipulates the reader’s emotions and opinions in order to achieve a specific purpose, that is, to achieve a desired outcome or effect which is important to and selected by the writer.
- Persuasive techniques chosen are influenced by the nature of the target audience; that is, the language (vocabulary, sentence structures, style/register), structure and sequencing of the piece are framed with the particular audience and purpose in mind.
- Requires choice of the best word (with the precise shade of meaning and overtones of approval/disapproval, virtue/vice etc.), so range of vocabulary and dictionary technique are important.
- Aims in certain instances (for example, advertisements) to keep the target audience unaware of being manipulated and adopts an appearance of objectivity and rationality by using indirect, subtle, secretive techniques; confidential, intimate, collaborative style and register.
- Sometimes uses exaggeration, extravagant language, and humour to create a conspiratorial relationship between the writer and the reader.
- Often uses the second person for direct address and appeal.
- Sometimes employs direct speech and questions to intensify the relationship with the audience.
- May use techniques such as the use of technical or scientific language and superlatives or quantitative statements to lend authority to the content.
Informative writing:

- Aims to convey information from the writer to the reader as clearly, comprehensively and accurately as possible.
- Usually uses objective style and impersonal expressions, although the writer may use an informal style to establish a relationship of ‘friendly helper’ with the reader.
- Normally has no particular point of view to convey; if a point of view is involved, the writing becomes either persuasive (aiming to convert the reader to a particular point of view or attitude in order to convince him or her to act or respond in a certain way) or evaluative (aiming to weigh two or more items/ideas in order to convince the reader rationally and objectively that a particular point of view is correct).
- Generally uses facts, examples, explanations, analogies and sometimes statistical information, quotations and references as evidence.
- Chooses language, structure and sequence to make the message clear and unambiguous, so the sequencing of information is usually logical and predictable.
- Probably uses few adjectives, adverbs and images, except as examples or analogies in explanation.

Evaluative writing:

- Aims to reach a conclusion acceptable to an intelligent, unbiased reader through the logical presentation and discussion of facts and ideas.
- Presents two or more important aspects of an issue or sides of an argument and discusses these rationally and objectively; using evidence to support the contrasting sides or alternatives.
- Uses objective style; appeals to reason not emotion; creation of an impression of balance and impartiality is essential.
- Often includes expressions of cause, consequence, opposition and concession.
SUITABLE RESOURCES

Courses must be developed within the framework of the study design: the areas of study, outcome statements, and key knowledge and skills.

Some of the print resources listed in this section may be out of print. They have been included because they may still be available from libraries, bookshops and private collections.
