Brief

You have been asked to create a website to promote the iCON 09 media player, manufactured by iCONIC. The website must appeal to a young target audience, 18 to 25. The website will consist of two pages: a home page and a features page.

You are required to write two promotional paragraphs, based on supplied text, for inclusion in the features page.

All pages must be laid out according to the design guide and formatted according to the style guide.

You are also required to create the promotional animation and add it to the home page.
